Water tower home plan gets the green light

Emma Fraser will spend a day behind bars

In the doghouse!

A DOG lover from Burscough has been sentenced to spend time behind bars - but it's all in a good cause!

As part of Red Nose Day 2017, Emma Fraser, who works at the K9 Comforts Dog Training Centre in Formby, will spend all day Tuesday March 21 locked up in a kennel . . . to feel the way her canine companions do.

The 37-year-old hopes to raise as much money as possible for Red Nose Day by spending 13 hours locked up in one of the centre's kennels from 8am to 9pm in what she expects will be an eye-opening experience.

Dog-mad, mum-of-three Emma told the Champion that she is both excited and apprehensive about the challenge.

She said: "As well as my day-to-day work I have two dogs at home and I love them to bits. I wanted to do something special for Red Nose Day and give as much as I can to

COUPLE LAUNCH DOWN'S SYNDROME CAMPAIGN

Grateful parents pay tribute to neonatal unit staff and plan annual event to raise funds and awareness of condition

Report by Danielle Thompson

A COUPLE who were shocked when their daughter was diagnosed with Down's Syndrome just 30 minutes after being born have launched a campaign to raise awareness and funds for research into the condition.

And they have paid tribute to staff at Ormskirk Hospital's Neonatal Unit whose speedy diagnosis enabled the newborn to have prompt treatment for other complications.

Ste and Katie Brookes, who have a three-year-old daughter Emily, were overjoyed when their second daughter, Alice, was born at the neonatal unit last October.

But their joy soon turned to anxiety when Alice was diagnosed almost immediately when eagle-eyed staff quickly identified physical characteristics which included a single crease across each palm (babies without the condition have two) before a blood test confirmed the diagnosis.

Down's Syndrome is a genetic condition that usually causes learning disabilities and distinctive physical characteristics.

Co-operative Bank worker Katie praised the staff for identifying that Alice had the condition almost immediately as this meant she could be checked for additional health concerns quickly. She was also grateful for the tactful way that they handled breaking this important information.

Ste and Katie Brookes with Emily and baby Alice

Now the couple from Old Skelmersdale are planning to hold an annual fundraiser to mark World Down's Syndrome Awareness Day on Tuesday, March 21.

Bickerstaffe FC player Ste, who is a joiner by trade, will be kicking off the first fundraiser by shaving off his shoulder-length hair at Urban Hair on High Street in Skelmersdale.

The family originally hoped to raise around £50 but pledges have already reached £735 and they want to donate the funds to national charity, The Down's Syndrome Association, whose Tell it Right campaign aims to educate staff in hospitals, midwives, nurses and paediatricians how to tell parents and provide support for the families of children diagnosed with the condition before or after birth.

Katie, 31, told the Champion: "Ste is looking for sponsorship to have his luscious locks chopped to raise money to support the Tell it Right campaign as we experienced both the positives and negatives of this when our second daughter was born.

"We were so shocked when we found out. It hadn't been picked up on pre-natally and we didn't notice any of the characteristics ourselves.

"We were thrown straight into the deep end and it's a steep learning curve, although if we had known that she had it before birth it wouldn't have made any difference to us personally.

"One of the most important things about a speedy diagnosis is that babies can be tested immediately for further complications.

"Alice has a hole in her heart and a problem with one of her valves and was being treated by a cardiologist at Alder Hey Children's Hospital in Liverpool within a week of being born!

Landowners warned to beware of storing illegal waste

Report by Danielle Thompson

ENVIRONMENT Agency officials are warning landowners across Lancashire not to be duped into storing waste on their land without checking if is legal, following a spate of incidents across the county.

The agency says businesses are being targeted by people looking to dispose of waste by dumping it in warehouses, mills and some open spaces.

It cautions that these 'waste criminals' can be very convincing in persuading landowners to allow them to use their properties and are able to fill the sites with waste which would cost hundreds of thousands of pounds to clear, ultimately leaving the landowner with an expensive clearance bill.

And all landowners are being urged to use reputable agents and brokers and carry out suitable checks and due diligence before allowing potential criminals to use their buildings or property as without these measures it could end up costing thousands of pounds to clear.

Steve Molyneux, an environment manager at the Environment Agency, said: "It's crucial that all businesses understand their duty of care responsibilities for the waste they produce, who they allow to transport it and ultimately where it goes

"Too often, when these responsibilities are misunderstood or ignored, we see the impact of waste crime where waste is deliberately dumped on land with no permit. This can cause serious pollution, put communities at risk and undermines legitimate businesses that are doing the right thing.

"And even if the landowner has no involvement, legally they may still be responsible for that waste and that could mean a large clear-up bill."

An example of illegal waste dumped in Lancashire

Waste stored inappropriately can create issues for neighbours through smells and pests. It can also have a detrimental effect on the environment and impact on rivers and streams.

There is also a high risk of fires due to the waste not being stored in the correct manner. Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service's community protection group manager, Liam Wilson, added: "Fires involving mixed baled waste can be incredibly difficult to extinguish and pose a risk to public health and the environment as they often contain hazardous materials. In extreme cases this can lead to the loss of the property in which the material is being stored."

If you suspect any illegal activity, have been approached to store such waste or you're currently storing such waste contact the Environment Agency on its 24 hour incident hot-line 0800 807060. Alternatively you can contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

"Luckily, it looks like the hole will heal on its own. She also has breathing problems and this is currently being looked into.

"The team at Ormskirk Neonatal were fantastic - so quick to diagnose and with how they dealt with the news. I can't imagine having to tell someone something so important.

"We were so lucky not to have the delays in diagnosis that other families had - what a brilliant team they are. We are also hoping to run a fundraising event for the unit later this year.

"I want other families who may find themselves in our situation to know that it's not the end of the world. "

Operation of Alt Crossens pumping stations extended

AN extension to the end of December 2018 for the operation of five land drainage pumping stations in Alt Crossens has been made by the Environment Agency, to allow time to identify an alternative solution for their continued operation.

The agency prioritises flood risk management to protect people and property, in line with guidance from the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (Defra). The management of land drainage in areas where the evidence shows that these do not deliver sufficient flood risk benefit to people and property is outside the responsibility of the agency.

The agency is continuing to work with the NFU, CLA, Lancashire County Council, local communities, local authorities and other stakeholders to progress a suitable alternative. In 2017, this will include developing a new advisory group to help inform the work to produce a range of options with costs and benefits, and support the process of identifying and implementing a preferred option following consultation.

Brain tumour survivor stages market fundraiser in aid of Walton Centre

Report by Danielle Thompson

Lynsey organises Mother's Day-themed event to repay specialist hospital that saved her life

A WOMAN who underwent life-saving surgery to remove a brain tumour is holding a Mother's Day-themed market this weekend to raise funds for the unit which treated her.

Entrepreneur Lynsey Blane from Haskayne was featured in the Champion in September when she launched a regular market in Ormskirk with her husband, Sean.

Now the mum of one is holding her Mothers Day Market from 1 to 3pm at The Civic in Southport Road a week ahead of the big day this Sunday (March 19) to raise money for The Walton Centre.

Formerly the Walton Centre for Neurology and Neurosurgery, it is the only specialist hospital trust in the UK that provides comprehensive neurology, neurosurgery, spinal and pain management services.

Lynsey was diagnosed with a 5cm brain tumour in 2014, which had taken over her pituitary gland and spread around her optic nerves and carotid artery – the biggest blood vessel in the brain, neck and face.

Complicated

She was given only a 50-50 chance of keeping her sight and warned she could die if she suffered a stroke during surgery.

In December 2014 she underwent a complicated nine-hour operation to remove the tumour at the Walton Centre. Although they removed most of the tumour, she has annual scans to check that what was left behind is not growing and suffers constant pain from severe nerve damage.

The market will feature stalls including skincare and make-up, wooden homeware and gifts, jewellery, cakes, flowers, bags, purses, wallets, books, pottery, candles, cards and children's books and clothes.

There will also be a grand raffle with 20 super prizes to be won.

Lynsey said: "This hospital saved my life and my sight when I had a brain tumour and also managed to control chronic pain in my knee, which I had suffered with for 25 years! They did this by inserting a spinal cord stimulator into my back, which works via Bluetooth with a remote control.

"Being that ill has taught me about how important life is and how important it is to spend as much time as possible with your family and we would love to raise funds for the Walton Centre.

"I also want to use the market as a way to give small businesses a chance, a platform to showcase what they can do while also raising funds."

Stalls at the market cost £12. Anyone wishing to book one can contact Lynsey by emailing theblanes@yahoo.co.uk.

77 drivers caught using mobiles in week-long crackdown by police

A TOTAL of 77 drivers were stopped and handed tough new penalties as part of a week of action by Lancashire Police to catch motorists using mobile phones behind the wheel.

Among those now facing increased fines and penalty points was a driver who said he didn't know how to work his built-in hands-free kit and an HGV driver caught texting. The HGV driver will also be reported to the North West Traffic Commissioner who has responsibility for issuing operating licences for HGV companies.

In addition, a tradesman who already had eight points on his licence now faces the prospect of being disqualified at court for exceeding the 12-point maximum.

During the week-long operation (March 1-7) officers targeted major trunk roads and areas where concerns had previously been raised by local communities, to enforce the law, prevent offending and educate those who continue to disregard the safety of other road users.

Marked and unmarked police vehicles were used to identify possible offenders, checkpoints were implemented across the county and officers responded to complaints about persistent offenders.

Targeting this type of unacceptable behaviour on Lancashire's roads was part of a wider national campaign to clamp down on mobile phone use whilst driving. It also coincided with the implementation of increased penalties for the offence, which are now set at six points and a £200 fine.

For new drivers (within two years of passing their test) this means automatically losing their licence and having to re-apply for a provisional and re-take their theory and driving test.

As well as the 77 caught using their phones, a further 53 people were caught travelling without wearing a seatbelt including a driver with two young children in the car.

A total of 52 vehicles were seized from the roadside for a range of reasons including no insurance or no driving licence.

Officers along with Mobile Camera Van Technicians also detected more than 200 speeding offences across the county.

Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw

Chief Inspector Damian Kitchen said: "We engaged widely with the public last week, through local radio, social media and check sites. The overwhelming feedback is that the public are extremely supportive of the increased penalties and focus on this offence. Indeed a large number advocated bigger fines and penalties.

"The detection of not only so many phone offences, but other offences such as seatbelts and speed offences shows that we still have work to do. The Lancashire Road Safety Partnership is committed through education, engagement and, if needed, enforcement to drive down casualties 'towards zero' on our roads.

"Some of the people caught now face not only increased insurance premiums, but in some cases the potential of losing their jobs. I would rather we catch nobody and see this offence become a thing of the past. This is not about fines and points, it's about stopping people getting injured on our roads."

Research shows that when talking on a mobile phone, a driver's reaction time is nearly 50 per cent slower than under normal driving conditions and you are four times more likely to crash if you use a mobile phone when driving.

Clive Grunshaw, Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner, added: "These figures show that there are still too many people on Lancashire's roads willing to put themselves and others at risk by using a device at the wheel. However, they also show that the police are taking action and using the tougher powers they have available to them.

"When I talk to members of the public about roads policing, people using phones at the wheel is their main complaint. To those taking unacceptable risks the message is clear, the police have the powers to tackle this and will take action against you. Don't risk people's lives or losing your licence."

In support of the tougher national stance, the constabulary will no longer offer education courses to drivers caught using their phone as an alternative to a fine and points. Those caught will automatically be issued with a penalty notice or be reported to court, depending on the circumstances of the offence.

It is hoped that the tougher penalties will act as a deterrent and encourage people to think before they pick up a phone whilst driving, realising the dangers and potential life changing consequences.

Activity will continue throughout the year to target motorists and to raise awareness through ongoing social media campaigns.

More information can be found on the Lancashire Constabulary website: https://www.lancashire.police.uk/campaigns/distracted-driving-mobile-phones/.

Green light for water tower home plan

PLANS to create a three-storey home on top of the iconic Water Tower in Ormskirk have been given the green light.

Report by Danielle Thompson

A planning application submitted to West Lancs Council by applicant Neil Dawson to convert the Grade II listed tower, which is more than 160 years old, into a single family dwelling, was approved on Friday (March 10).

The water tower was built in 1853 and originally had a viewing platform on top. The area around the tower was initially used for grazing animals and in the 1920s the road it's sited on, formerly Tank Lane, was renamed Tower Hill.

In 1876, the well underneath the tower was made deeper and it remained in service for another 100 years. In 1976 it was awarded listed status.

There have been a number of previous planning applications submitted in an attempt to develop the tower into housing, but none have been successful.

The most recent, in 2007, suggested creating seven apartments by demolishing large sections of the tower but was rejected after meeting strong opposition from local residents and English Heritage.

Residents living nearby have raised concerns about the planned development, including that it would overlook and shadow nearby homes; that it is not in keeping with other developments in the area and that it is an 'eyesore'.

The design and access statement submitted with the granted application claimed that previous applications had been 'fundamentally flawed' as they were not leaving the original structure intact.

It stated: "It is physically impossible to remove any of the lower columns without substantial parts of the barrel vault floor collapsing. This application seeks to leave the existing Grade II listed tower entirely alone and simply construct a new two-storey metal box on top of the tower. The new scheme seeks to respect its historic status by leaving the tower intact."

help change lives both here in the UK and abroad in Africa.

"So I decided that the best thing to do would be to spend 13 hours locked up in a dog kennel!

"I work for the company K9 Comforts that is linked with West Lancs canine centre, where we specialise in dog training, dog agility, Doggy day care and home boarding. My manager was more than happy for me to host the challenge there and we are hopeful that a lot of people - customers, friends and family alike - will come together to support me.

"People can come and say hello and have a chat at any time on the day.

"You can make a donation on the day or we have a sponsor form at our centre if you wish to sponsor me beforehand.

"I'm looking forward to it. It will be hard but I really want to see people's reactions. A friend of mine did something similar for a local dogs home last year and I thought it was a great idea as I work with dogs already."

Emma is hoping to raise £500. To sponsor her or for more information visit www.justgiving.com/fundraising/Emma-Fraser15.

Commuters hit by 24-hour rail strike

Report by Tom Martin

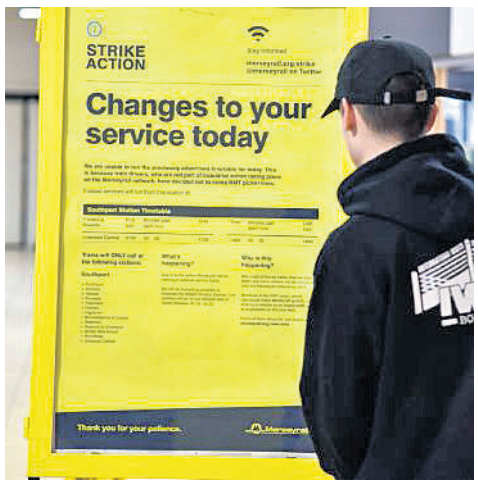
RAIL commuters in West Lancashire were among thousands in the North West whose travel plans were affected by 24-hour strike action on Monday (March 13).

The strike was called by members of the Rail, Maritime and Transport (RMT) union over proposals by Merseyrail to use driver-only trains on its new fleet to be introduced in 2020.

During the day a reduced service was operated by Merseyrail, with the earliest train from Ormskirk to Liverpool setting off at around 7.45am and the last train from Liverpool to Ormskirk at around 7pm.

Northern Rail trains, which serve the Southport to Manchester line through West Lancashire, were also affected by action over the same issue. And although the company said they were able to put on around 40% of their usual number of weekday services throughout the region, there were no trains at all between Southport and Wigan with rail replacement buses operating instead.

On Merseyrail services were reduced to every half-hour instead of the customary 15-minute intervals and it was also announced in the morning that there would be a break in service between 11am and 2pm.



Rail commuters faced disruption on Monday

Confusion

And there was further confusion for passengers when the changed timetable advertised in the days leading up to the strike had to be altered again on Monday morning when some drivers refused to cross the picket line.

The union said the strike had been successful.

RMT general secretary, Mick Cash, said: "The RMT action on Merseyrail is absolutely solid with pickets out in force at all key points and the response on the ground has been wholly positive. It has been a massively successful operation.

"This strike is about safety and about putting the welfare of the travelling public before the profits of the private rail companies.

"The public understand that and it's about time Merseyrail and their cheerleaders woke up to that reality and started serious talks with the union that secure a safe future for their services and the guarantee of a guard on their trains."

Earlier Merseyrail had failed in an attempt to block the planned strike after taking the matter to court. They claimed that the union's dispute should be with Merseytravel, which is the company bringing the new fleet of trains onto the network, but this argument was dismissed.

RMT members say that the new fleet of driver-only trains will not be safe without guards and also put jobs at risk.

However, Merseyrail have said that any current guards no longer needed in that role would be offered other positions within the company.

Call for fairer deal on police finances

West Lancs MP urges minister to ensure funding formula reflects demands on forces

ROSIE Cooper has called on Policing Minister Brandon Lewis to ensure the Home Office eradicates previous calculation errors and that police funding reflects the demands on the respective forces.

The West Lancs MP raised concerns ahead of the revised National Police Funding Formula being finalised and used to calculate future funding arrangements, during Home Office questions in the House of Commons.

Addressing the minister, she said: "On a previous attempt to recalculate the national police funding formula, Lancashire Police was set to lose £25 million a year. That was revised down to £8 million a year when inaccuracies were identified. That is on top of the £76 million that it had already saved since 2010.

"What steps is the Policing Minister taking to ensure that the national police funding formula will not repeat the same mistakes and will accurately reflect the demands on police forces?"

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper

DWINDLING

In response, the minister attempted to offer assurances on the matter, saying "we will see where it goes for all in order to get a fair formula for the future."

Speaking afterwards Rosie Cooper said: "As we see fewer and fewer police officers on our streets, police and community support officers rapidly dwindling and police stations closing, it is unsurprising people are concerned as to the future impact of the new funding formula on our police service.

"The glaring errors of the Home Office's first two attempts to calculate the funding formula are far from reassuring. Perhaps it will be third time lucky and they will get it right.

"We shall see if the Policing Minister will honour his commitment of a fair funding formula.

"Lancashire Police have already had to slash £76 million from their budget and they face a further £2.5 million cut to their government funding grant in the next financial year as well.

"As I told the minister, police funding needs to accurately reflect the demands on our police forces so that people feel safe in their homes and safe on the streets."

Council defends use of body cameras by car parking enforcement staff

by Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancs Council has defended its use of body-worn cameras following a report by a privacy campaign group.

The report, for Big Brother Watch (BBW), revealed that more than six in 10 councils are not conducting privacy impact assessments before deploying the cameras and that more than a fifth are keeping footage for longer than 31 days, the guidance for police forces.

And it claimed that nationally nearly £1.8million has been spent on purchasing 3,760 cameras.

One of the main reasons cited for the cameras is to protect staff from aggressive behaviour, but they are also used to capture offenders littering, committing parking offences and allowing dogs to foul public areas; or to monitor recycling habits.

A spokesman for West Lancs Council said: "Enforcement on West Lancashire Borough Council's pay and display car parks is carried out by NSL, an appointed enforcement contractor. Their civil enforcement officers wear body cameras to help deter confrontational behaviour and have found them to be highly effective in doing so.

An example of one of the many types of body cameras that can be fitted to a uniform

> "We do not regard the cameras as an intrusion of privacy as they are not in continuous operation"

"We do not regard the cameras as an intrusion of privacy as they are not in continuous operation - officers only use the cameras if they feel a situation requires it."

However, Renate Samson, chief executive of Big Brother Watch, said: "Despite repeated warnings about misuse of surveillance powers we have found that once again councils are choosing to use powerful law enforcement tools with little consideration of privacy.

"Using body-worn cameras to protect people's safety is one thing, but widespread filming of people's behaviour in order to issue fines is simply not proportionate."

NEWLY OPENED LETTING AGENT ACHIEVES PROPERTY QUALIFICATION OF EXCELLENCE

Cheryl Cain, a letting agent at Cdk Lettings in Ormskirk, has achieved the Propertymark Qualifications NFoPP QCF Level 3 Technical Award in Residential Letting and Property Management.

The Technical Award, which is a nationally recognised industry qualification, meets the Association of Residential Letting Agents' (ARLA) Propertymark membership requirements for those looking to join the Association as a member agent. ARLA Propertymark is the UK's foremost professional body for letting agents. It aims to promote better regulation and higher practice standards in the UK private rented sector.

Cheryl has been working as a letting agent and has recently set up her own lettings business - Cdk Lettings, covering Skelmersdale / Ormskirk and surrounding areas.

Cheryl Cain of Cdk Lettings comments: "It was important for me to secure this recognised qualification as a letting agent. It is not only a personal achievement but also a mark of professionalism and trust; it provides reassurance to tenants dealing with Cdk Lettings that the agency adheres to the highest professional standards, and that employees are qualified and knowledgeable letting agents."

Cheryl is among a growing number of agents across the UK working with ARLA Propertymark and Propertymark Qualifications to become qualified and raise standards within the industry.

Melfyn Williams, Chair of the Governing Body, adds: "The Propertymark Qualifications NFoPP QCF Level 3 Technical Award is a regulated qualification ideal for candidates wanting to improve existing knowledge in the key areas related to residential letting and property management. Propertymark Qualifications is committed to raising standards within the residential letting and property management sector through the provision of accredited, nationally recognised qualifications, such as the Technical Award Cheryl has achieved."

David Cox, CEO of ARLA Propertymark, concludes: "I congratulate Cheryl on her achievement of the Level 3 qualification and am pleased to welcome her to ARLA Propertymark membership.

"ARLA Propertymark strives for better regulation in the private rented sector; with the support of letting agents across the UK recognising the need for higher standards and integrity in the sector, gaining a qualification with Propertymark Qualifications counts as a real stamp of professionalism and supports the drive for better practice within the industry."

The former Burscough Bridge Interchange building

Charitable trust to take over former Interchange site

LANCASHIRE County Council has revealed a proposal to transfer ownership of the former Burscough Bridge Interchange building to a charitable trust to provide a space for community-led activities and projects.

The proposal for the site, which closed last June as part of the authority's bid to reduce its budget following cuts in government funding, is one of a number of similar schemes being considered.

The council agreed last year to reduce the number of buildings it owns and rents, and form a network of multi-functional buildings known as Neighbourhood Centres, to provide a base for a range of different services in one place.

During public consultation on the property strategy the council agreed to explore proposals by community groups and other organisations to take on responsibility for running some of the affected buildings.

The council has received 43 business cases in all.

The proposal for the former Burscough Interchange premises adjacent to Burscough Bridge rail station will see the building transferred to a charitable trust formed by Burscough Parish Council working with partner organisations.

All of the proposals are subject to further discussion and final agreement on the terms of the transfer.

Deputy leader of Lancashire County Council, County Councillor David Borrow, said: "Services which are owned and run by the community have a particular value as they can respond flexibly to local needs, and I'm very pleased that we're able to support these proposals."

County commits to new initiative on tackling obesity

LANCASHIRE County Council has made a new commitment to tackle obesity and encourage people to lead a more active and healthy lifestyle.

The authority has signed up to the Local Government Declaration on Healthy Weight - a national initiative in conjunction with Food Active.

The declaration sets out action the county council will take to reduce the impact obesity has on communities, the economy, and Lancashire's health and social care system.

The council has agreed to:

• Work with food and drink retailers to encourage them to sell products responsibly. This includes making healthier food and drink options available at shops and takeaways close to schools.

• Ensure healthy food and drink options are available in public buildings such as schools and hospitals.

• Ensure people can easily access fresh drinking water in more county council-run buildings.

• Develop plans with organisations on Lancashire Health and Wellbeing Board to address the causes and impact of obesity.

• Limit promotion of unhealthy food and drinks in and around schools.

County Councillor Azhar Ali, Lancashire's cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "Obesity is a serious health issue here in Lancashire, with 66.7% of the county's population classed as overweight or obese. This is higher than the national average of 64.8%.

"Adopting the principles of the declaration will provide a focus for our work and help us to do even more to address this important issue.

"For example, we'll be working with businesses that sell food to ensure that healthy options are available, particularly in fast food outlets that are close to schools and other facilities used by young people.

"We'll also help people to know more about the food they eat, so that they can make better choices for themselves.

"We've already been doing a great deal of work to tackle obesity. Last year we introduced a new service called Active Lives and Healthy Weight. We'll also continue to work with schools to encourage children to stay fit and well."

For more information about obesity, visit: http://www.lancashire.gov.uk/lancashire-insight/health-and-care/lifestyle/obesity.aspx.

Report claims bus funding cuts may lead to 'transport deserts'

A REPORT commissioned by an independent charity which fights for better public transport, walking and cycling, for the sake of communities and the environment, claims that some areas could become 'transport deserts' as a result of cuts to funding for bus services.

Research by the Campaign for Better Transport reveals supported bus services have been hit hard by funding cuts with more than 500 routes completely withdrawn or reduced across England and Wales in 2016/17.

The 'Buses in Crisis' report shows that nearly £30 million has been cut from local authority supported bus funding in the last financial year - an 11 per cent reduction in England and 7 per cent in Wales, compared to 2015/16.

Lancashire County Council initiated the biggest cut this year, officially cutting their entire bus support budget, £7 million, while maintaining £2 million of Community Transport budget.

And the North West is the region that has seen the highest bus cuts this year with an average reduction in bus spending of 15 per cent.

The research also shows that since 2010 more than £100 million - 33 per cent - has been cut from local authority bus funding and 2,900 bus services have suffered cutbacks and withdrawals resulting in huge disruptions for communities.

Campaigner, Lianna Etkind, said: "As our research shows, buses across the country have been hit hard by funding cuts. Year-on-year we are seeing more bus services lost, with some local authorities stopping supporting buses altogether.

"These cuts come on the top of cuts to school transport and the under-funding of free pensioner travel; together these threaten the viability of whole bus networks and will lead to 'transport deserts' in some rural and suburban areas where there is no public transport at all.

"This decline is not inevitable though. With the Bus Services Bill currently going through Parliament, there is hope that powers in the bill will help local authorities to better plan and set standards for their bus networks, improving people's access to jobs, services and education.

"We urge the Government to ensure that all local authorities have the full range of powers at their disposal; and to put in place a plan to ensure buses have the funding they need.

"The Government needs to understand the vital role buses play in the economy, the environment and to wider society and to commit to protecting bus services, not just in towns and cities but in rural areas as well."

Talk will trace station's naval history

A LOCAL historian is to give a talk about the rich history of the former Royal Naval Air Station, HMS Ringtail, in Burscough.

Lawrence Critchley will hold the talk, entitled 'Ringtail to Retail' at Booths Café on the Ringtail Retail Estate on Wednesday, March 29. Running from 7 to 9pm, it will also feature a display of relevant artefacts and photographs.

Tickets cost £2 and can be bought from Booths Café. All profits from the event will be donated to the Royal Navy Historic Flight, a civilian-staffed charity which maintains and flies a small number of aircraft that are important to British Naval aviation.

Choir celebrates 30th anniversary

MEMBERS of Parbold Chamber Choir will mark their 30th anniversary by staging a Baroque Fest on Saturday, April 1 at Christ Church, Parbold Hill.

Choir secretary, Alex Garden, said: "The 30th anniversary concert will feature music from the choir's very first concert in March 1987 - Come, ye Sons of Art, by Purcell and Zadok the Priest, by Handel.

Choir members are delighted to welcome David Lewis, their founding musical director, to play harpsichord in the guest orchestra and Paul Chamberlain, also a former musical director, who will sing baritone solo.

"Victoria Little will be singing mezzo-soprano solo, Stephanie Guidera, contralto solo and the concert will be directed, as usual, by Jim Cooke.

"There is a large car park at Christ Church and refreshments will be served in the interval."

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets, priced £10, can be ordered by calling 01704 821303 or emailing contact@parboldchamberchoir.co.uk.

Growing menace for pedestrians in town centre from those on four wheels and two!

I WOULD like to know why are cars illegally parked on double yellow lines and pavements in Ormskirk town centre?

If they parked like that in Southport they would all have tickets on their windscreens within five minutes!

Also, cyclists on pavements are getting more of a menace towards pedestrians, especially the elderly.

And these are not new problems, they have been going on for years.

A. E. Millington, Redgate, Ormskirk

Budget subsidises motorists while Government oversees decimation of local buses

ONCE again we have motorists and lorries being subsidised by the Government by freezing and in fact cutting petrol duty whilst throwing millions of pounds at environmentally-destructive road schemes.

This is the same Government which has seen a near 30% increase in the cost of public transport and the decimation of local bus services due to the massive reduction in the grants to local governments.

This is doubly unfortunate as David Cameron stated that his would be the greenest government ever and the previous Conservative Government increased fuel duty above inflation to slow down the growth in road traffic.

I was not surprised by this year's fuel duty freeze as the Chancellor, Phillip Hammond, when the Minister for Transport, remarked that the war on the motorist was over (in reference to the previous Labour government) and caved in to the motoring lobby by savaging John Prescott's White Paper on transport because it was too anti car.

He could not understand why cyclists should be in front of motorists at traffic lights when cars are faster, nor why at railway level crossings trains have priority over motorists and finally he cancelled a rail scheme to connect Heathrow airport with south London because it would inconvenience some motorists at level crossings.

J. M. Berry, Aughton

Work on long-awaited rail station should start NOW not in five years!

I WAS very disappointed to read in the Champion (March 1) that our councillors are 'excited' by the news that the long-awaited Skelmersdale railway station may see work BEGIN in five years time. Come on!

Yes, it is long-awaited by the residents of Skelmersdale and beyond.

This project has been costed over and over. My message to our councillors is to get on with it - NOW!

Freeze everything else if you must, the station and the rail link is of the utmost importance to us all.

Having to wait a further five years for this project to start is a joke!

Those are my feelings on this matter and I would be encouraged if others were to be of like mind.

Ron Webster, by email

Privatisation by the back door is still privatisation

GEORGE Pratt's letter (Champion, March 8) says that using private profit--making companies in the NHS is not privatisation.

This is double-talk. If such companies were allowed to take over 99% of the NHS he would argue that this is only 'making an efficient use of resources'.

We know from experience that these outfits put profits first, not patients. Just look at the catastrophic state of the privatised prisons.

Vital public services like the health service should remain public.

Back-door privatisation is still privatisation.

Maurice George, by email

Plan needed to save our NHS before it's too late

A GOOD letter from Joe Welsh (February 23). He says we have a choice and should fight for our NHS.

How do we fight? Any suggestions from the apathetic public who do little and moan a lot?

Remember GB Shaw who said: 'Unless we plan for the future we shall get what we are given and then it will be too late.'

Graham P. Walker, Up Holland

Time to take a leaf out of other countries' book on medical insurance

I AGREE with P. MarshalL (Letters, February 15) that it's time that people from other countries having any sort of treatment on the NHS should pay the bill.

Their passports should be taken and returned only when the bill has been paid.

My wife and I are planning a trip to America to see our children. We are both in our 80s and my wife has a heart problem. We have been quoted a staggering figure of £3,725 for travel insurance.

Other countries expect payment for medical treatment, so why not us? It's time our government took action instead of just talking about it.

Walter Lonsdale, by email

Excellent walk-in staff a credit to health service

I WOULD like to thank all the staff who dealt with me recently at Ormskirk walk-in centre.

I received an excellent service, the staff were lovely, smiling and very helpful and professional. They put me at my ease and reassured me and gave excellent advice and I didn't have to wait long. What a great service. Well done to them.

I have been to this walk-in centre before with a neighbour who had a problem and again the service was excellent.

Jane Thompson, Station Road, Ormskirk

All animal lovers should chip in to help rescue centre survive

Tmy dog in the park and talking to like-minded friends I was most upset to to be told that Freshfields/Ince Blundell, the animal rescue charity, were now considering closing the centre because of lack of funds.

I was informed their costs are so big as they are looking after approaching 700 animals at their two centres.

They never turn an animal away if they can help. We took a young hedgehog there in November. It was taken in and treated immediately.

As Sefton and West Lancs residents know, Freshfields, over the last 40 years, have been one of the few places in this wide area where people can take lost or abandoned animals, no longer wanted pets and injured or sick wildlife animals, and know they will be looked after.

Although the charity is run efficiently it must cost a lot of money to run. It has now been said that staff have been on half-pay for a considerable time.

A main reason for their present difficulties is losing the large premises they rented, to show and sell donated items of furniture. The charity raised a considerable amount of funds from this shop.

I do feel that most animal lovers of this area appreciate the excellent work the charity does and I do know they receive a lot of help and support from local helpers but then the wider population do dismiss the fact this work costs a lot of money.

I therefore ask all local animal lovers to chip in and donate to this excellent service. I will be sending them a cheque and I hope this letter sparks the same response from your readers.

Perhaps some local business could donate or sponsor this charity on an annual basis. I am sure it would be noted and appreciated by the community.

Please help.

June start date for council's new green bin charge

CHANGES are in the pipeline for residents in West Lancashire who use the council's garden waste collection service.

From June 5 the new charge will be introduced for the collection of garden waste and residents will be able to choose if they wish to use the service.

It will cost £30 per year for one green bin to be emptied. Householders will also be able to have additional green bins emptied at a cost of £25 for each additional bin.

Councillor Kevin Wilkie

Councillor Kevin Wilkie, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for street scene services, said: "We are advising residents now that changes are on the way, so that they can take time to decide whether they wish to use the council's service.

"The council took the difficult decision to introduce charges for garden waste collections due to the challenging financial position it faces, primarily because of reductions in government grants. Many other councils have introduced similar charges."

In April, the council will deliver a leaflet to every household in the borough giving information about how to sign up and pay, and further details of the service. Information is also provided on the council's website at www.westlancs.gov.uk/gardenwaste

Residents will be able to sign up and pay from Wednesday, April 19 if they want the council to collect their garden waste.

The free garden waste collection service will finish on Friday, June 2 and the new service will start on Monday, June 5.

Residents will need to sign up and pay before Monday, May 15 to ensure there is no interruption to collections from their home.

For residents who sign up and pay, there will be no change to collection days and the council will continue to empty green bins every two weeks.

Residents who don't use the service will be able to dispose of garden waste at the household waste recycling centres, or compost it.

MP welcomes community activities hub for elderly plan

ROSIE Cooper has praised plans for a new forum for elderly care across the North West due to be launched in West Lancashire this week.

The West Lancs MP met Athena Health Care Group's head of healthcare, Gaye Clark and events co-ordinator, Lesley Malone, who are spearheading the launch of the new Community Activities Hub for All Boroughs, to discuss the scheme to bring together care providers to share inspirational ideas once a month.

The hub will be launched at 2pm tomorrow (Thursday, March 16) at The Civic in Southport Road, Ormskirk by Everton FC events organiser, Henry Mooney, who runs a number of events for elderly residents from across the North West.

Skelmersdale Community Singers will sing at the event and there will be light refreshments including tea, coffee and cakes.

The hub will take place once a month at the Civic, with attendees paying a £2 donation each time towards the costs of hosting the meetings.

Speaking after the meeting at her office at the Malthouse Business Centre, Rosie Cooper said: "I was very interested to hear about the plans for the new monthly hub and how it is offering a range of activities for older people, whether living in residential care or in their own home.

"It's a fantastic opportunity for local residents to meet up with their friends or go along to enjoy the company and meet new people for a few hours.

"The wider benefits of the community activity hub are clear for people's mental and physical wellbeing, and in tackling loneliness and isolation. I wish everyone involved in the hub every success with the project in making a difference in people's lives."

Concern grows for missing teen

AN urgent appeal has been launched to find a teenager who has gone missing from Skelmersdale.

Katie Heron, who lives with her parents and two sisters, was last seen at around 1pm on Wednesday, March 8 at the family home in Ivydale.

The 19-year-old has not been seen by her family since then and they have not been unable to contact by phone as her mobile is seemingly switched off.

Katie is described as white, about 5ft 3in tall with short, dark hair.

When she was last seen she was wearing a black-and-white dress, leggings, black, knee-high boots and a khaki parka jacket.

She is also thought to have a rucksack with her and could be staying in the Barrow-in-Furness area.

PC Helen Smith of Skelmersdale Police said: "Katie's family are getting increasingly worried about her and we would appeal to anyone who may have seen Katie or knows where she is to get in touch with us.

"Similarly we would urge Katie, if she sees this appeal, to make contact with us so that we can make sure she is safe."

Anyone with information can contact police on 101.

Cube to be lit up for Down's Syndrome Day

THE Lightcube on Exchange Island in Skelmersdale will be lit up in red and blue to mark World Down's Syndrome Day on Tuesday (March 21).

West Lancs Council arranged for the structure's computer-controlled fibre-optic lights to be switched on after a request from Skelmersdale mother-of-three Gillian Haworth, whose youngest son, four-year-old Tom, has Down's Syndrome.

Council leader, Ian Moran, said: "I will be delighted to see the Lightcube shining red and blue to mark World Down Syndrome Day, as this is a cause which is close to the hearts of many in West Lancashire."

Borough councillors' allowances fixed for four-year period

COUNCILLORS on West Lancashire Borough Council have agreed to keep their basic allowance to £4,842. This is now fixed for a four- year period until March 31, 2020.

At the last full council meeting it was also agreed to reduce the rates currently paid to councillors for business mileage, to reflect the HM Revenue & Customs suggested rates with effect from April 1.

The council currently pays each councillor a basic allowance, with a special allowance for those members with additional responsibilities. Councillors are also paid travel and subsistence allowances and, in certain circumstances, childcare and dependent carer's allowance.

A spokeswoman for the council stated: "The council considers the recommendations from an independent body, the Independent Remuneration Panel, when determining councillors' allowances. The panel carried out a full review in 2015 and recommended that councillors' basic and special responsibility allowances should remain the same for four years, which was agreed by council in February 2016. There was no change to this policy at the meeting on February 22 2017.

"However council agreed to reduce the rates currently paid to councillors for business mileage, to reflect rates suggested by HM Revenue and Customs with effect from April 1, 2017."

Still time to grab share of £75,000 charity fund

THERE is still time for community groups in West Lancashire to apply for a £5,000 grant as part of a bank's £75,000 charity hand-out.

The deadline for applications to Yorkshire Bank's Spirit of the Community Awards 2017 has been extended to next Friday, March 24.

The awards programme was launched earlier this year to recognise and support community projects which are going the extra mile.

Registered charities and not-for-profit organisations are invited to enter their projects into the awards scheme under one of three categories:

- Projects which help people to have a healthy relationship with money.

Debbie Crosbie

- Projects which help people to improve their local environment.
- Projects which help people into employment.

The awards are open to a range of initiatives across the third sector which can demonstrate support for the community. This could include projects helping to upskill people for the workplace, ventures promoting healthy relationships with money, or schemes aiming to protect the environment.

Five projects will be selected in each of the three categories and all 15 winners will be awarded £5,000 each.

Debbie Crosbie, chair of the Yorkshire and Clydesdale Bank Foundation, said: "The standard of entries over the last four years has been fantastic and we look forward to continuing our support for local communities again this year."

The winners will be announced this summer. For more information or to enter visit ybonline.co.uk/foundation

CASE STUDY: 7 Figure Settlement For Catastrophic Injuries

We fight for our clients and we build relationships of trust to help us to do it.

We represented an 8 year old boy, who was hit by a car that was being driven too fast. He suffered a terrible brain injury which, amongst other things, has left him blind, with no purposeful movement, needing to be fed by naso-gastric tube and in need of constant attendance. His life expectancy is severely reduced due to the accident.

Before the accident he had his whole life ahead of him with parents who had every reason to expect him to be successful in whatever direction his education took him.

The accident changed his life completely and it also changed the lives of his parents and his siblings.

Our task was to try to establish that the fault for the accident lay 100% with the driver of the vehicle which knocked him down and to secure the compensation appropriate for his injuries whilst also covering his future needs.

In catastrophic injury cases, a top quality team of lawyers is essential and with determination and tenacity, we persuaded the insurers to admit liability on a 100% basis and a 7 figure settlement was negotiated. It has resulted in various past and future losses being paid, not least the protection of his ongoing care and accommodation needs for the rest of his life.

Our client is greatly loved and cherished by his devoted family and whilst our work in this case is done, the contact between DPP Law and the child's parents will continue. Why? Because of the strong and trusting relationship we were able to build with the parents who knew that every possible step was being taken in the best interests of their son.

DPP Law is there for you if you need us, as the parents of this child found out following that fateful day when their lives changed forever.

Animal sanctuary staff advise early health checks for family pets

STAFF at Woodlands Animal Sanctuary are stressing the importance of early health checks for family pets after a young cat which came into their care recently was found to have a heart condition which will require costly treatment and reduce its lifespan.

Ten-month-old Jiggly arrived at the Holmeswood-based charity following a change in home circumstances and was found to have a heart murmur and hypertrophic cardiomyopathy or thickening of the heart muscle. As a result he will have to have a monthly scan and costly medication.

Vickie Maude from Woodlands said: "Unfortunately with this diagnosis his life expectancy is significantly reduced. We have started him on a medication programme to slow down the enlarging of the heart although it may only give him a few extra months. Had he been diagnosed earlier it would not have stopped the disease, but earlier treatment could have given him an extended lifespan."

Chance to join in Rangers' ramble

MEMBERS of the public are invited to take part in a walk organised by West Lancs Council's Parks and Countryside Ranger Service on Sunday, March 19.

Walkers wishing to join the eight-mile Lathom Circular walk should meet at the entrance to Ruff Woods on the corner of Vicarage Lane at 9.50am for a 10am start.

County's new High Sheriff named

New High Sheriff of Lancashire Robert Mitchel Webb

LANCASHIRE'S new High Sheriff has been announced as Robert Mitchel Webb.

Appointed by the Queen each year, the role of High Sheriff dates back more than 1,000 years.

Robert was born and brought up in Belfast, before moving to Lancashire in 1976.

He has spent his working career as managing director of his family business, the John Hogg Group, originally formed in 1890 and with diverse interests including Irish linen, chemical manufacture, property investment and a film studio!

Over the years, Robert has been involved in many aspects of life in Lancashire, serving as a magistrate for 20 years and having been a General Commissioner for Tax.

He has also served as a school governor and trustee and chairman of Cancer Care North Lancashire and South Lakeland.

Robert will be sworn in at a special ceremony on Friday, April 7, taking over the office from the incumbent High Sheriff John Barnett.

Commenting on his appointment, he said: "I consider it a great honour to be nominated as the next High Sheriff of Lancashire, and shall do my best to maintain the long and rich traditions of the office. I shall also be delighted to assist in any way possible our voluntary and charitable enterprises, which play such vital roles in our county."

Council want your views on next Local Plan

Consultation period starts tomorrow

WEST Lancs Council is working on a new Local Plan and wants to hear residents' views on 'this extremely important document'.

A Local Plan guides how the borough develops over a specific time period and can cover everything from where new homes, employment sites and retail and leisure facilities should be situated, to policies on transport, local services, energy and the environment.

The current Local Plan covers up to 2027 and the council is in the early stages of forming the next plan. It is asking local people to comment on a number of significant topics which will shape how the plan develops.

This is called a Scoping and Issues & Options Consultation and the topics include:

- How much housing and employment land development will be required each year.
- What period of time the Local Plan should cover.
- Scenarios on how new development should be spread across the borough.
- Consideration of the infrastructure required to support new development.

In total there are five options papers that residents can read and give their views on. They also cover other important issues such as the economy, the environment and social issues such as affordable housing and providing for an ageing population.

Councillor John Hodson

Councillor John Hodson, the council's portfolio holder for planning, said: "I would urge people living and working in West Lancashire to take part in this consultation as this will influence how the new Local Plan takes shape."

The consultation starts tomorrow (Thursday, March 16) and you can view all the relevant documents and complete the survey form at www.westlancs.gov.uk/localplan from that date.

The closing date for people to respond is Friday, April 28.

If you are unable to access the survey online you can also send your written comments to localplan@westlancs.gov.uk, or Local Plan Team, West Lancashire Borough Council, 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk, L39 2DF.

You can also see the documents at the council offices at 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk, and the Customer Service Point at the Concourse Shopping Centre, Skelmersdale, as well as at libraries in the borough.

A number of public consultation events, for which places must be booked, are also planned as following:

Monday, March 27, 7 to 9pm at The Grove, Burscough.

Wednesday, March 29, 7 to 9pm at the Ecumenical Centre, Skelmersdale.

Monday, April 3, 7 to 9pm at Parbold WI Hall, The Common, Parbold.

Thursday, April 6, 7 to 9pm at Chapel Gallery, St Helens Road, Ormskirk.

Monday, April 10, 7 to 9pm at Halsall Memorial Hall, Halsall.

Wednesday, April 12, 7 to 9pm at Tarleton Academy, Tarleton.

To book a place at one of the above events or for further information on the consultation, call the council's Local Plan Team on 01695 585194. All reasonable comments received will be considered in taking the Local Plan forward.

Happy Mother's Day

And you add to my esteem
Your love, and mine for you, will never end …

Search is on for the 'Pride' of local health services

DO you know a member of staff working at our hospitals or community health services who deserves special recognition?

Members of the public are being invited to nominate a member of staff at Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust for an honour in the annual Pride Awards.

Iinterim chief executive, Iain McInnes, said: "The People's Choice Award is a fantastic way for patients and families to show their individual appreciation to a particular member of staff or team for the treatment or care they have received."

Any member of staff, in any role, is eligible for a nomination providing they work for the trust. Nominations for the People's Choice Award close on Saturday, April 8.

To make a nomination, go to the trust website and follow the link from the front page. Alternatively you can contact the trust on 01704 704714 for a nomination form.

The Pride Awards, now in their ninth year, are for hospital staff and teams or those working in community health services, who deserve special recognition for their excellence and professionalism.

In addition to the People's Choice Award, staff are invited to nominate their colleagues in a further six categories.

There are also special awards for outstanding achievement and lifetime achievement.

The awardswill be presented at the Floral Hall, Southport on Friday, June 16.

Chance to learn about good lung health

RESIDENTS in West Lancashire suffering from respiratory health conditions are invited to attend a special free lung health event organised by the NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), the British Lung Foundation (BLF), Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust and the Breathe Easy Group West Lancashire.

The 'Breathe Easy' event to be held on Monday, March 20 at the Toby Carvery in County Road, Ormskirk from 1 to 3pm, is open to any West Lancashire resident, who is living with a respiratory health condition, such as chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), asthma and bronchiectasis, as well as any residents who want to learn more about good lung health.

On the day, there will be guest speakers, including Dr Sacha Youzgin, a respiratory consultant from the Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust, who will discuss how people living with lung disease can look after their health; and Mel Reardon, a clinical specialist physiotherapist, who is also based at the hospital trust.

There will also be the opportunity to take part in a 'Power of Music' taster session and the chance to meet members of the local Breathe Easy group, as well as local health care professionals, including West Lancs CVS.

Sandra Bonner, an advanced respiratory nurse specialist for West Lancashire, said:

"Respiratory health conditions are typically complex and something that people live with for a long time, therefore events like this are so important, as they help people to understand how to manage their condition and symptoms.

"Often those patients living with a respiratory health condition can face long stays in hospital or admissions to A&E, which could be avoided if they knew how to manage their condition better themselves, in the comfort of their own home.

"This event is aimed specifically at residents living with a respiratory health condition, but I would also recommend that anyone with an interest in good lung health come along. You don't need to register in advance, so just pop along on the day."

For more information about the event, the local Breathe Easy monthly support group, or to speak to an expert about their lung condition, residents can contact the British Lung Foundation on 03000 030 555 or email helpline@blf.org.uk.

The new toilet facilities at The Civic

Civic team flushed with success after grant funds toilet upgrade

STAFF at The Civic in Ormskirk are feeling flushed with success after the toilets at the venue were successfully upgraded!

Facilities at the hall in Southport Road were refurbished after it was awarded a grant of £14,597 from the Whitemoss Community Fund.

The fund offers grants of between £5,000 and £20,000 to fund community and environmental projects in West Lancashire that are located within five miles of the Whitemoss landfill site in Skelmersdale.

The Civic has more than 400 people through its doors every week and the previous facilities had not been changed since the 1960s!

The new facilities include child-friendly toilets, a baby-changing area and a modernised disability-accessible toilet.

A spokeperson for The Civic said: "Refurbishing the toilets has enabled us to fulfil one of our core values which is to ensure that The Civic is accessible for every member of our community. We now have the facilities to match this commitment."

Rob Routledge, chairman of the Whitemoss Community Fund's advisory committee added: "We're delighted to have been able to support yet another deserving project in West Lancashire.

"Since 2010, the Whitemoss Community Fund has donated £335,000 which has been shared between 29 local projects for the direct benefit of local residents."

Hair salons with TVs but no licence risk brush with the law

OWNERS of hairdressers and barbers in West Lancashire who have televisions without the legal licensing could risk having a brush with the law.

The TV Licence group has issued a warning after the rising trend of businesses putting screens in the waiting area and also in front of individual chairs.

Some forward-thinking salons are even offering iPads and tablets to customers so they can access on-demand TV services.

But in order to legally do this, salons need a TV Licence or they risk prosecution and a fine of up to £1,000.

In 2016 ten salons across the UK were prosecuted for licence fee evasion, and in the last financial year, TV Licensing enquiry officers visited more than 36,000 unlicensed businesses, including hair salons and barbers shops.

Matthew Thompson, TV Licensing spokesperson, said: "With many salons mounting small TV screens by each chair or providing hand-held tablets so customers don't miss a minute of their best-loved TV shows, hairdressers are making sure TV is more accessible than ever before. But it's important salon owners and managers take a few moments to review and update their licensing requirements.

"Cutting corners, rather than hair, could land the owner in court and facing a fine of up to £1,000. A TV Licence is just a 'snip' at £145.50, and there are many ways for businesses to pay, including BACS electronic transfer, direct debit or cheque."

Hilary Hall, chief executive of the National Hairdressers' Federation, added: "Reading a magazine in the chair is still very popular, but some clients enjoy watching TV while they're having their hair cut or styled and someone having a treatment can be in the chair or under the dryer for a couple of hours.

"The NHF regularly reminds salons that if anyone will be watching TV in the workplace they need to have a TV licence."

‘Grand’ gesture will help fund dementia links project events

OLDER people in West Lancashire living with dementia are set to benefit from a £1,000 donation to Age UK Lancashire’s Wellbeing Centre in Ormskirk to support extra activities and events.

The grant was awarded from Lancashire County Council’s Community Wellbeing Fund to support people living with dementia or memory concerns and their carers and families in the borough.

The number of people diagnosed with dementia is increasing every year and organisations such as Age UK Lancashire provide vital support to those with a diagnosis and their support network.

The dementia community links project run by the charity enables people to continue doing activities they enjoy as well as staying involved in the community and trying new hobbies.

Caroline Thompson from Age UK Lancashire said: “We are delighted to receive this money as the events will provide the opportunity for local people, their carers, family members, friends and key partners to attend fun, informative and social events that will be themed around a traditional Lancashire day and bygone times.

“We are hoping to make each event slightly different and would encourage anyone living locally to come along and get involved.”

The first event is planned for April. For more information ring 0300 303 1234.

Pictured at the presentation are Caroline Thompson, dementia community links manager for Age UK Lancashire; Gary Heron, centre manager for Age UK Lancashire; and County Councillor Nikki Hennessy

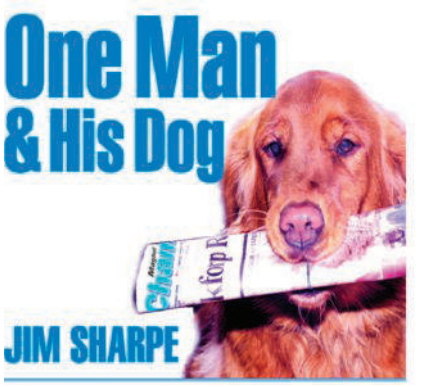
Slimming WORLD
touching hearts, changing lives



Matt and mates are gearing up to be top hosts

THEY’VE got it right - second time around.

You may remember that I was a fan of Top Gear, the BBC’s, ostensibly at least, motoring programme, which in reality was really a raucous and most definitely non-PC entertainment based around motor cars - usually fast and loud ones.

Say what you like about Jeremy Clarkson - and I sometimes have - and his friends May and Hammond, but to me they were a breath of fresh air in a world where it is quickly becoming almost impossible to criticise anything or anybody without being immediately pilloried as being one ‘ist’ or another.

Anyway, thicko Jeremy got the old heave-ho for punching his producer and May and Hammond immediately resigned as well, leaving us, and the Beeb, without Top Gear.

Now since this programme, rightly or wrongly, is a top international earner for the BBC, obviously something had to be done. And done it was, with the hapless Chris Evans leading a motley crew of assorted presenters. It was a resounding flop - if flops can resound. Certainly ratings collapsed and the ‘new’ Top Gear quietly disappeared.

In fact, the one good thing that this fiasco did throw up was Matt LeBlanc.

And now Top Gear is back, and if it is not yet quite up to the Clarkson standard, its gearbox is changing up very quickly I think. Instead of more presenters than cars, we are now back to a team of only three, and if the first episode was anything to go by, I for one will be regularly watching.

Really, the only thing I reckon is missing, and I hope not for long, is the obvious genuine camaraderie between Matt and his new cohorts, Chris Harris and Rory Reid. They made a good stab at it, but it takes time for disparate people to really gel. Still, the signs and portents are good and I really wish them well.

Staying with television, I am hugely enjoying the Mutiny programmes in which an assorted crew of brave men are attempting to recreate the epic voyage of Captain William Bligh and the sailors who refused to join the infamous mutiny on the Bounty.

The only slight niggle is that of course there is a rescue vessel on hand a few miles astern of our heroes. I certainly do not think this safety net should not be in place, but it must have an effect on the mental outlook of those concerned. After all, in the original, a mistake could certainly have cost you your life and you didn’t have the option of saying you’d had enough and were going home!

Anyway, I’m glad that Captain Bligh’s tremendous achievement in navigating a 23ft boat 4,000 miles to safety is being given a proper airing. I reckon folk generally have given Bligh a bad name, solely on the spurious ‘historic’ contributions of Hollywood.

Bligh was known to be a good and fair - if tough - captain, who, apart from his almost unbelievable feat of navigation, went on to record a successful career in the Royal Navy. He very nearly took part in the Battle of Trafalgar (his ship was simply too far away and arrived after the battle was won).

In fact, the movie industry has always had the power to make or break reputations, sometimes quite unfairly. We all know how America won the Battle of Britain, for instance.

At sea though, if you discount some spurious ‘facts’ in those propaganda war films, things have often gone quite well. The film A Night to Remember about the sinking of RMS Titanic, for instance, is widely regarded as being very close to what actually happened; or indeed, The Battle of the River Plate', in which the German captain Hans Langsdorff is quite rightly portrayed as a humane and reasonable man.

I’d bet that had this been an American film he too, like William Bligh, would have become a monster.

Call for tougher action on hare coursing trespassers

AN organisation which represents landowners, farmers and rural businesses in England and Wales is calling for tougher action on criminals who trespass on farm land to undertake betting activity in the form of hare coursing.

The practice, which is illegal under the Wildlife Act 1831 and the Hunting Act 2014, normally takes place on areas of open land between the months of September and March when crops are low and the 'chase' can be filmed. The activity attracts high stakes and the dogs used are of great value to their owners.

The CLA has been campaigning for greater intervention from the police to help tackle the problem by launching a public awareness campaign in Lancashire, Humberside and West Yorkshire and encouraging members of the public to record and report suspicious activity.

Last week John Glen MP secured an adjournment debate in the House of Commons to press the Minister for Policing, Brandon Lewis, for tougher sentencing for criminals and encouragement for greater use of police powers. The CLA highlighted the blight of hare coursing by providing a briefing to some 200 rural MPs ahead of the debate.

The CLA is calling for tougher action on criminals who trespass on farm land to bet on hare coursing

In his response the minister gave an assurance that he will liaise with the Ministry of Justice to establish what guidance is given to the courts and the Sentencing Council over the fines imposed on the convicted criminals. This commitment was given in response to complaints from MPs that fines imposed on offenders are too lenient.

CLA Director North, Dorothy Fairburn, said: "Fines imposed under the Hunting Act are unlimited, yet too often they amount to just a few hundred pounds. This is not an effective deterrent for a lucrative crime. The police are able to seize vehicles and dogs - both of which would have a direct impact on hare courses.

"Police forces have the power to tackle these criminals but they need evidence to catch perpetrators and bring them to justice. This is why we encourage people to record and report any suspicious activity to the police. This can be done by dialling 101 to speak to your local police force or contacting Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111."

Glaucoma... The Silent Thief Of Sight

The International Glaucoma Association (IGA) have launched a million pound health information campaign to raise awareness of glaucoma and encourage people to have regular eye examinations.

The campaign begins by highlighting research findings that men are at greater risk of losing their sight than women because they ignore warning signs and do not seek medical attention. The research, which focused on glaucoma, was carried out by City University and showed that men are 16% more likely than women to suffer advanced vision loss on diagnosis of the condition.

Consultant ophthalmic surgeon and glaucoma specialist, for iSIGHT Clinic, Southport and Aintree University Hospital, Mr Vincent Dubois, offers some insight on detecting and living with Glaucoma.

Unfortunately, there are no symptoms from early glaucoma. By the time a patient has symptoms, it is usually too late. This is why glaucoma has been described as the 'silent thief of sight'. It affects 600,000 in the UK and more that 64 million people worldwide making it the leading cause of irreversible blindness globally.

The safest way to protect ourselves from glaucoma is to regularly attend a local high-street Optician. Apart from prescribing and issuing glasses, an Optometrist can carry out tests to see whether a patient has Glaucoma. Glaucoma is a disease of the optic nerve, the nerve that captures light and sends that light to the brain where an image is generated, giving you 'sight'. A diseased optic nerve does not see well and in some cases, patients can lose their sight from this condition. Those who are most at risk of Glaucoma are generally, the elderly, patients with Indian, Asian or African origins, and those who have a family member who is already affected by the disease.

The good news is glaucoma can be treated, we use eye drops, lasers and surgery to stop or slow down the condition. However, we cannot restore any sight already lost, hence the importance of early detection whilst people are free of any symptoms. 9 out of 10 patients do not need surgery.

A lot of patients ask, will it stop me from driving? The answer is, only if they have it in both eyes AND it is severe. It is the individual's responsibility to ensure that they meet DVLA requirements. A person must inform the DVLA if they have glaucoma in both eyes. In this instance the DVLA will arrange for them to have some further testing done, which will determine their eligibility to hold a UK Driving License. Class 2 license holders have more stringent requirements.

Remember, with early detection, from regular eye tests, and appropriate treatment very few patients have sight problems from Glaucoma. This is a condition that patients tend to live with, not suffer from. However, there are local support groups in place to help inform and educate people about the condition.

The importance of regular eye tests for maintaining sight

With an ageing population and more people facing the prospect of working later into life, it has never been more important to look after our health; both to maintain our ability to work, and to be able to enjoy life to the full.

Eyesight is key to getting the most out of life, but it's also an aspect of health that is often overlooked. So what steps can we take to ensure our eyes remain at their sharpest?

Specsavers is working with the International Glaucoma Association (IGA) on a health information campaign to raise awareness of the importance of regular eye examinations. The £1m initiative will coincide with World Glaucoma Week, which runs from March 12-18.

'We're all familiar with the usual steps we can take to maintain a healthy lifestyle as we get older,' says Dr Nigel Best, Specsavers' clinical spokesperson. 'Fitbits and apps on our mobiles monitor our steps and sleep patterns – but our eye health can easily be neglected.'

RNIB (Royal National Institute of Blind People) and Specsavers' 'State of the Nation' report revealed that nearly 14 million people in the UK are not having their eyes tested every two years as recommended.

'Conditions that can often affect our eyes over the age of 40 range from high blood pressure to age-related macular degeneration and can be detected by an optician during the course of a regular eye examination,' Dr Best adds. 'The earlier any such conditions are picked up the higher the chance of successfully treating them, which is why we recommend eye tests every two years.'

Glaucoma – often described as the 'thief of sight' due to its gradual onset – is one such condition that is more easily managed the sooner it is detected. It affects 600,000 people in the UK and more than 64 million people worldwide making it the leading cause of irreversible blindness globally.

Karen Osborn, Chief Executive of the IGA, says: 'Glaucoma is found in 2% of the UK's population aged over 40. Most of those people have a slow developing form of the condition and we estimate that half of all cases – that's over 300,000 people – remain undiagnosed and are unaware that they could be slowly losing their sight.'

RNIB and Specsavers' research also revealed the total cost to the UK economy of sight loss in the adult population of the UK totalled £28.1 billion, leading to a huge burden on the economy due to easily preventable vision-related issues.

Sally Harvey, CEO of RNIB, adds: 'At least half of all sight loss is preventable. Regular eye tests and early detection on the high street, followed by timely intervention and management of eye health conditions, could help save your sight.'

Call to check for signs of malnutrition

A LEADING charitable association working to combat malnutrition, is urging everyone that is caring for someone who is elderly or vulnerable to take time to check they are not at risk of malnutrition during Nutrition & Hydration week (March 13-17).

BAPEN, a multi-professional association and registered charity established in 1992, says malnutrition is a major clinical and public health problem that is usually only detected when a person is admitted to hospital but originates in the community when people at risk are living in their own home but unable to look after themselves properly.

It can affect anyone and may be caused by an inadequate diet or a problem absorbing nutrients from food. This may be the result of common issues such as a recent stay in hospital; a long-term health condition; low income; or bereavement or social isolation.

Mystery of 'disappearing' cycle scheme stand solved

A RESIDENT'S concerns about the 'disappearance' of the automated cycle hire stand at Ormskirk bus station have been addressed by West Lancs Council who have blamed government funding cuts.

Under the scheme, users could hire a bike from £1 per hour any time of the day, seven days a week using a mobile phone and a debit card at any of the bike stands across Lancashire -including the one at the bus station in Moor Street which has since been removed.

Local resident Barrie French contacted the Champion commenting: "The cycle bay at Ormskirk bus station has disappeared. Cycles were mentioned in the Ormskirk masterplan about 30 or 40 times as a way to get people around Ormskirk and out of cars. I'd like to know who paid for the installation and what did it cost?"

A spokesperson for the borough council responded: "The automated cycle hire stand at Ormskirk bus station was part of a wider network across Sefton and West Lancashire that were initially installed and funded through the VISIT West Lancashire Project. This was a joint scheme between Sefton and West Lancashire councils which received government funding.

"Following cessation of government funding for the VISIT project, a review was undertaken of the cycle hire stands to assess whether their retention was a viable proposition. In the case of the one positioned at the bus station, it had only been used on a small number of occasions and had been susceptible to vandalism. Retention of the stand was not therefore considered to be financially viable.

The automated cycle hire station at Ormskirk bus station, which has now been removed

"Other cycle hire stands that were installed as part of the VISIT project remain and these include two stands at Edge Hill University which are available to the public all year round. A further stand is located at the Ship Inn, Lathom and is available from April to September.

"West Lancashire Borough Council is keen to improve facilities for cyclists and is looking to establish a high-quality, accessible network for green infrastructure and cycling in the borough."

Warriors are aiming for the top after netting sponsor deal

THE newly-formed Ormskirk & West Lancs Warriors basketball club have netted a first major success in their bid for glory in the Basketball England National League - by winning sponsorship from tissue makers, SCA.

The Warriors have under-14s and under-16s teams with members selected in a development programme from the top young players across West Lancashire and further afield, including Ormskirk, Skelmersdale, Tarleton and Southport.

And to help the teams get established in their first season in the national league, SCA's Skelmersdale mill has stepped in with a £250 sponsorship to buy kit and a new promotional banner.

Warriors' co-founder Gavin Dunne, a former professional basketball player who now works at the SCA mill as a member of the site security team, said: "SCA's support has been a real boost.

"The Ormskirk and West Lancs community club offers basketball from ages six through to adult, but we wanted to create the Warriors as a development programme.

"The under-14s have improved immensely this season, whilst the under-16s are showing themselves as one of the strongest teams in the league and may only narrowly miss out on a play-off spot."

SCA is a leading global hygiene and forest products company and its Skelmersdale mill on Pimbo Road produces paper tissues, including the household brand Velvet and commercial brand Tork, as well as 'own brand' products for leading supermarket chains.

Mill manager, Stefan Montarius, said: "It's great that this new development programme has been created for the young players and we wish them every success in the national league."

Anyone interested in getting involved in the club can find out more at www.westlancsbasketball.co.uk or by emailing OWLbasketballclub@gmail.com.

Skem boxer Steve Brogan is aiming to be contesting titles this year

Steve has title fights in sights

SKELMERSDALE boxer Steve Brogan will be looking to extend his 100% professional record when he takes to the ring again on a card at the Robin Park Centre in Wigan on Friday, March 24, against Welshman Henry Janes.

In his most recent contest the 33-year-old lightweight made it 10 wins out of 10 with a knock-out victory over Joe Ducker at Leigh Sports Village in December.

Steve, who is now training full time under the guidance of coach Dave Tonks at Speke, is also set to feature on the undercard of the Martin Murray-Gabriel Rosado bill at Liverpool's Echo Arena on Saturday, April 22 as he builds towards hopefully fighting for a title later this year.

He said: "I am now training full time and would like to thank the local businesses who are sponsoring me - my main sponsor, Darren Pugh of DTP Rail, plus Joe Sterling of Sterling Motors, Gary Higgins at SCC car & camper conversions, Caliper Engineering, Wigan, Terry McHugh of Amigos and Bruce Skinner of Mr Sign.

"With their help and support, hopefully, I will be challenging for titles this year but we are always looking for more sponsors and any amount would be appreciated."

Anyone interested in sponsoring Steve or buying tickets for the Robin Park date can contact him directly on @steseriousbrogan.

- She'll do without the things she wants so that you can have the things you need.

Today is your turn to let her know how special she is.

Treat her to breakfast, buy her a beautiful bouquet of flowers, take her for lunch or afternoon tea or even book her a spa treatment.

Above all, remember, Sunday 26th March is all about showing Mothers how much they are loved and appreciated!

Award winning canoe safari re-opens WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre

Spring is in the air at WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre with the first 5 avocets returning to the centre on 19 February as part of the spring migration.

The avocets, now currently 44, will remain at the centre until early August, using the reserve as their breeding ground. In the past, numbers have reached 100 birds and it is hoped that this year could bring record numbers. Avocets spend the winter either on the south coast or in Mediterranean countries and they chose to spend the summer in the UK.

Just 10 years ago, avocets were quite rare in this area but WWT Martin Mere has been able to introduce a number of initiatives to help manage the wetlands, ensuring the habitat is perfect for summer wading birds in the hope to raise the number of birds breeding. These initiatives have included the purchasing of rare breed cattle who act like lawn mowers with their selective grazing patterns, hay making in late summer and early autumn once all of the youngsters have hatched and left their nests, and by controlling the water level we can adapt the habitat for the needs of summer and wintering birds.

Centre Manager, Nick Brooks, said: "The fact that we are continuing to raise numbers of these wading birds is a testament to the reserve wardens for their hard work in making the land suitable for waders to breed. Spring and summer is a really nice time at the centre to watch migrating wader birds and their chicks, and we are looking forward to yet another successful breeding season."

The next month is a cross-over of seasons with 1200 Whooper swans still on the reserve up until mid-March as well as spring migrants arriving at the centre offering fantastic photography opportunities for all visitors to enjoy.

WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre is open every day (except Christmas Day) from 9.30am to 4.30pm during winter months and parking is free of charge. Situated off the A59, it is signposted from the M61, M58 and M6. The Centre is also accessible via the Southport to Manchester and the Liverpool to Preston line by train from Burscough Rail Stations. Uni to host free science festival for kids

Report by Ollie Cowan

EDGE HILL'S annual free festival of Primary Science will take place later this month, with local primary school children, trainees, teachers and families encouraged to attend.

The Science Under the Stars: Our Fragile Earth event on Friday March 24 (4-7pm) will offer interactive stalls, activities and lectures all focused on helping children to understand our planet; its place in the Solar System and how to take care of it.

More than 20 local and UK organisations will have a presence at the festival, including Liverpool Astronomical Society, Mad Science, Martin Mere, RSPCA, RSPB and West Lancashire Rangers.

The evening will also feature the premiere of 'Our Fragile Earth', a story created by Impossible Theatre together with children from St Philip's C of E Primary School, Liverpool and St Peter's C of E Primary School, Mawdesley.

Frith Murphy, Primary Science Subject Leader at Edge Hill said: "Science Under the Stars: Our Fragile Earth will build on the legacy of Tim Peake's mission to continue to educate and excite primary children about the wonders of our planet. We welcome local primary school children, trainees, teachers and families to this inspiring evening which is free to attend with no booking required."

This event is jointly funded by Edge Hill University and the European Space Education Resource Office.

Stage stars to 'kill off' Little Theatre's Ian

Ian keeps the Little Theatre going!

IAN Bryden has been playing an important part in the refurbishment of Formby Little Theatre, but now gets his chance to be on stage.

However, as the character who makes enemies of all the rest, one after another from the moment he appears, and in a play called "Whodunnit", it is no surprise he does not survive beyond Act 1!

Anthony Shaffer's comedy thriller has fun with all the conventions of the genre, and even opens with the androgynous voice of the murderer challenging the audience to recognise all the clues he or she will be giving. When the police arrive in Act 2, they are soon baffled too - will they ever identify the killer?

'Whodunit' runs at Formby Little Theatre for the final two weeks of March.

The Town and Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012, Regulation 18

The Borough Council are beginning to prepare a new Local Plan, which will eventually replace the West Lancashire Local Plan 2012-2027. The Local Plan Review will set out the Council's planning framework for future development in the Borough, and will include policies and proposals for development that will deliver West Lancashire's housing and employment needs and help to address a range of key issues facing the Borough.

The first stage in the preparation process is 'Issues and Options' in which the Council looks to identify the issues facing the Borough that planning can help address and the planning options that help to address them.

The Council will be consulting on the Local Plan Review: Issues and Options from Thursday 16th March until Friday 28th April 2017 and invites comments on the published documents. Comments should be received no later than 5pm on Friday 28th April 2017.

Copies of the documents, along with all accompanying documents including a Sustainability Appraisal and Habitats Regulation Assessment, will be available at www.westlancs.gov.uk/localplan and it is preferred that comments are submitted using the survey link provided on the website. What is the next classic car that's worth investing a few quid in?

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

EVERY so often someone who might as well have cartoonish dollar signs in their eyeballs rather than pupils asks me the same question. What's the next classic car worth investing a few quid in?

It's always a question that worries me. Partly because buying any car with investment rather than enjoyment in mind always smacks a bit of Arthur Daley, but more because the answer's no longer the one people want to hear.

It isn't the Jaguar XJ-S, which for ages seemed to be worth about £2.50 and is suddenly unobtainable for anything less than £6000. It isn't the Ford Sierra XR4i, which you used to be able to find abandoned in laybys but is now talked up by people with beards and trendy glasses as being the thinking man's Capri. Nor is it the Porsche 924, which for an eternity was the cheapest German sports car money could buy but has now been usurped by the Boxster and Z3.

It isn't even – as at least one car-savvy mate suggested the other day – the Vauxhall Calibra, because while they're still cheap cars they aren't the bargain basement offerings they once were. I'm afraid you won't like the answer, because it's the Rover 800.

That and the Vauxhall Vectra. In the Rover's case one low mileage minter sold for a staggering £10,000 a couple of weeks ago, and at least one classic car insurance company I know is making a point of offering cover on really early Vectras. While we're at it you might as well add the Peugeot 405, the E36-generation BMW 3-series and Britpop-era Ford Mondeos to the list.

Cars like the Jaguar XJ-S are no longer the bargains they once were You're probably horrified at the idea of Nineties repmobiles can even be contemplated in the same way a Triumph TR6 or an MGB might, but that's exactly the point. Because no one thinks of these cars as classics they cost virtually nothing to buy, and yet so few survive they're actually rarer than most Ferraris. A colleague of mine's just bought a Peugeot 405 SRI for instance – nothing special in its day, but in 2017 there are just 14 left in Britain.

Don't believe me? Look at what happened to the Ford Sierra. It sat in a sort of motoring no man's land for years, but sell a good one now and you'll have petrolheads in Ford-branded baseball caps biting your arms off. Same with the BMW E30 - the 3-series people with silly mobile phones used to run around in during the late 1980s, if you don't speak Petrolhead. The cars you used to see being driven around council estates now sit at car shows, being polished.

So if you really are into automotive crystal ball gazing I'd suggest you stop looking for bargain-priced sports cars. Pick up a 3-series for £400, look after it and flog it for ten times as much in a decade's time.

David is the editor of Classic Car Weekly

Brand new Suzuki Swift model to be released in May

AN ALL-NEW Suzuki Swift will be arriving in showrooms across the North West in June.

It'll only be available in five-door form, but it's lighter and more powerful than the outgoing car.

It comes with a choice of three trim levels, three engines - and the option of a four-wheel-drive system on some models.

Prices for the new model are due to be announced in May.

Nissan's new noisy Micra

NISSAN has teamed up with high-end audio specialist Bose to create a noisy new version of its Micra.

Not only does the new spin-off of the five-door supermini, called the Bose Personal Edition, have orange cosmetic touches to give it a more aggressive look, but it has a Bose sound system that includes speakers incorporated into the headrests.

Prices for the new model, which is available both in petrol and turbodiesel form, will be announced closer to its UK launch this summer.

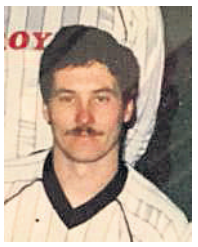
Tributes paid to Alex Blakeman

TRIBUTES were paid before Burscough Richmond FC's recent league game to former player and assistant manager Alex Blakeman, who has passed away.

The 60-year-old, who died unexpectedly at home, was remembered at his team's home match against Wyre Villa, when a minute's applause was held by players, staff and fans.

His son, Chris, said that football was one of his main passions in life, and during his career he also played for Burscough FC at different periods between 1977 and 1991.



Alex Blakeman

During his time with the Linnets, he played in an FA Cup first round clash against Sheffield United, which was played at Bramall Lane in 1979 in front of 14,000 supporters. Sheffield United won the match 3-0. Alex also had spells with local clubs Skelmersdale United, Formby and Maghull.

Chris said: "After his family, my dad's other passion was football. The words I would use to describe dad as a footballer are determined and dedicated.

"He played for various local clubs but it didn't matter what colour he was wearing, you always knew you would get 100%.

"He made so many friends and memories through football, he would always know a familiar face from his playing days when watching one of the lads play.

"Dad was a player and then coach at Burscough Richmond which saw the club become one of the most successful teams in the league's history and is a reputation which is still continuing today.

"Alex also coached for several seasons at Southport Reserves."

Was this worst day ever for West Lancs football?

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

WAS this the worst weekend in the history of non-league football in West Lancashire?

Skelmersdale United and Burscough lost by a combined aggregate score of 13-0, with Skelmersdale losing 5-0 at home to Barwell and the Linnets getting hammered 8-0 at Colne.

Both clubs are now in grave danger of being relegated.

If Burscough lose to Glossop North End, which was scheduled to take place last night (Tuesday) and then get beat this Saturday at Prescot Cables, they will be relegated from the Evo-Stik League.

Skelmersdale are in a similar just slightly less urgent situation. With 10 league games left, if they win them all they can only amass 49 points.

But it is very likely that they will need 50 to stay up.

So, considering Skem are on 19 points from 36 matches, a miracle is needed. They would fall back into Evo-Stik Division One North.

This Saturday, Skelmersdale face the long and daunting trip to Northumberland where they take on runaway league leaders Blyth Spartans, a team who won 4-1 at Skelmersdale back in January.

The irony of all this is that in Burscough's case they have, prior to last Saturday, showed a collective fighting spirit that has been a pleasure to watch.

If they had played with that verve earlier in the season they might not be in the plight they are now.

Skelmersdale can be real entertainers, Alan Rogers has been forced to play a team of mainly youngsters who have played or are currently at big clubs.

They have a high level of technical ability, they work tirelessly and can play some flowing football, the problem is that they can struggle against the big, strong physical outfits that many teams are in the Evo-Stik Premier Division.

Both teams are worth a watch for the remainder of the season, even if they do face relegation.

Struggling Skem were hit for five at home to Barwell

Skelmersdale United 0

SKELMERSDALE suffered their biggest home defeat of the season to leave their hopes of survival hanging by a thread.

The first warning sign of what was to come came in the sixth minute when 17-year-old debutant goalkeeper Joe Hilton dived full-length across his goal to palm away a shot from Brady Hickey.

Two minutes later Barwell took the lead when a knock down by Callum Ball gave the on-running Hickey a simple task of finishing from a few yards.

In the 14th minute Barwell doubled their lead. The ball was given away in the Barwell half and former Derby County forward Ball carried the move on before releasing Hickey behind the Skem defence for a chance he gratefully accepted.

Skelmersdale came back with what was to be their best chance of the game in the 24th minute. Steve Irwin sent a sweeping ball from left to right, Remy Howarth controlled it, and switching the ball to his left, his shot was only kept out by goalkeeper Liam Castle's outstretched foot.

In the 50th minute Hilton brought off a magnificent reaction save to his left from Hickey, but three minutes later he was beaten.

Edward Nisevic and Ball pulled off a slick exchange on the left and the former put in a driven cross, the mobile Hickey got his head to the ball and put it well wide of Hilton into the net to make it 3-0.

Just after the hour Nisevic was put way at pace down the left and crossed low to the near-post, Luke Barlone got to the ball first and stabbed it home from close range.

In the 68th minute another Skelmersdale passing move broke down because of a loose pass and the ball went straight to Barlone, the burly forward immediately lifted it over the defence where Ball ran onto it and blasted past Hilton for 5-0.

Manager Alan Rogers said: "The budget I have got to play about with that is where we are at. I am not a miracle worker.

"We are either superb or awful, there is no in-between"

... And it was even worse for Linnets who conceded eight

Colne 8
Burscough 0

BURSCOUGH'S 19-year tenure of a place in the Evo-Stik League (apart from two in National League North) is now in grave danger after suffering their biggest defeat of the season at the Holt House ground on Saturday.

The Linnets just couldn't cope with Colne's young striker Ollie Wood, who netted four times to lead what in the end was a rout.

Goals in the 17th and 21st minutes put Burscough in trouble. The first saw Wood get away from his marker to head home at the near-post from a corner.

The second goal came after former Skem hero Adam Morning was given far too much space on the left, from where his ball across the face of goal was flicked into the net by Wood from about six yards.

Wood completed his 14-minute hat-trick on 31 minutes.

Again Morning was the provider with a diagonal ball that put the big striker one-on-one with Burscough goalkeeper Ritchie Mottram, the ball going into the bottom corner.

When on 42 minutes Holmes put a clumsy challenge in on Morning and a penalty followed that was converted by Mark Ayres and the Colne slope wasn't the only mountain Burscough had to climb after the interval.

In the 62nd minute Morning got in on the goal-scoring act himself, characteristically weaving a circle around two defenders then wrong-footing another before netting at the second attempt to make it 5-0.

The bad dream turned into a nightmare for Burscough in the 66th minute. Thomas Croughan who was one of the few Linnets players who was doing himself justice committed the cardinal sin, having been booked for a foul eight minutes earlier he fouled Connor Gaul and a second yellow brought a red.

To their credit Burscough didn't give up, but on 70 minutes Wood notched his fourth after a cross from the right, then in the 74th minute Ayres fired home his second spot-kick.

Two minutes from time Colne made it 8-0 via Morning. The shaven-headed left-footer was put clean through and placed the ball into the net. By then Burscough didn't even have the heart to argue.

Burscough can only get 42 points if they win all their remaining seven matches, if they lose at promotion-chasing Glossop North End on Tuesday and lose again on Saturday at Prescot Cables, they will be down.

This week's Champion is inside ...

West Lancashire's future - HAVE YOUR SAY!

The Council is starting work on a new Local Plan for West Lancashire which will guide how and where new development takes place in the area. It will take 3-4 years to prepare.

The first part of the process is to look at all our background information and to identify the main issues facing West Lancashire – social, economic, and environmental - that planning can help address.

We then need to think about how best the Local Plan can help tackle the different issues.

This stage is called the ISSUES AND OPTIONS.

What do you think are the main issues that planning can help address which will affect people who live, work and spend leisure time here in West Lancashire? We've listed some of the issues we have identified through these pages. A full list can be found through our consultation documents. Do you agree or disagree with those issues that we have identified? Can you suggest anything else that should be included?

For each issue we've identified, we want to know how best to address it – which options are the most appropriate. The questions on the inside of this wrap will show you the types of things we need to look at. How should we respond to the needs of everyone in our Borough? Have you any other suggestions as to how we can address the issues facing the Borough through planning policies?

WE WANT TO KNOW YOUR VIEWS ON THE ISSUES AND OPTIONS.

Use these pages to find out more about the issues and options, our consultation events and how to submit your comments.

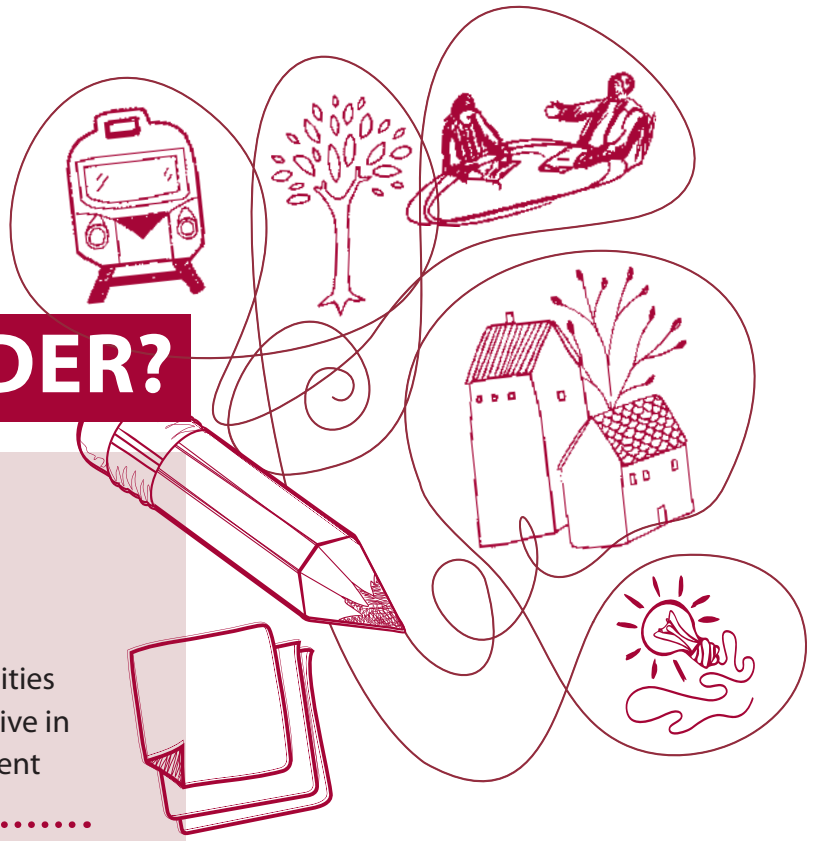
WEST LANCASHIRE
LOCAL PLAN



WHAT DO WE NEED TO CONSIDER?

What do you think are the planning issues for West Lancashire?

How can we respond to them?

We want to know your views on the planning issues facing West Lancashire – whether affordable housing, transport, renewable energy, environment, open space, job opportunities, shopping, services or anything else – and how you think we should address them in our new Local Plan. See these pages for just some of the issues and options we need to consider, and the back page for how you can find out more and comment.

What are the issues?

- Building a strong economy – including making land available for employment
- Supporting strong and vibrant communities including building homes for people to live in
- Protecting and enhancing the environment

How much new development? Where should it be located?

- Should we plan to 2037? Or beyond to 2050?
- How should we spread development across the Borough?
- How much new housing each year – same as now, or less, or more, or much more?
- How much new land for business?
- Where should new development go – in towns / on the edge of towns / in a new settlement?

PEOPLE, HOUSING AND SERVICES

What are the issues?

- An increasing elderly population and a decreasing, working age population.
- Inequalities between different areas of the Borough – with some areas having much poorer health, lower life expectancy, lower education levels and more limited job opportunities than other areas
- The affordability of housing
- The needs of the travelling community
- Student accommodation needs
- Access to services, facilities, jobs and transport

How do we deal with them?

- How should we provide affordable housing?
- How should we support people who want to build their own home?
- How can we help make the Skelmersdale housing market stronger?
- How should we provide housing and services for older people?
- How do we best meet accommodation needs for students and young adults?
- How should we meet travellers' accommodation needs?

THE ENVIRONMENT

What are the issues?

- Protecting nature and wildlife
- Managing flood risk
- Dealing with climate change
- Providing renewable energy

How do we deal with them?

- Should we continue to protect local nature sites?
- Should we identify sites for wind turbines and solar panels?
- How can we support good design?
- How can we promote healthy lifestyles and encourage activity?

THE ECONOMY

What are the issues?

- Strengthening the local economy
- Improving training and skills
- Protecting and enhancing town centres and what they offer
- Protecting agricultural land and supporting rural businesses
- Promoting tourism

How do we deal with them?

- What types of employment (or jobs) should we encourage?
- Where should we locate different employment types?
- How should we support the rural economy?
- Should we reconsider our town centres and shopping areas?
- Do we need to identify sites for shops and offices?

WEST LANCASHIRE BOROUGH COUNCIL

DIDN'T YOU JUST DO A PLAN?

WHY DO YOU NEED TO START PREPARING ANOTHER, NEW LOCAL PLAN?

We adopted our current plan back in 2013, which covers the period 2012-2027. We need a new Plan to make sure our policies are up-to-date so that we can manage and guide where development takes place. If our plan goes out of date, it can mean the Council has less control over where development goes. This then makes it harder for us to make sure new housing and employment are put in the most appropriate areas, and for us to deliver the correct supporting infrastructure.

It's not about sites – yet

You may wonder what might happen near you under the new Plan… We are not thinking about specific sites – yet. This stage is just about identifying the issues facing the Borough, and how we can tackle them. Where we will locate development will be decided in the future. However, if you have a site that you think would be suitable for development, you can send us the details through www.westlancs.gov.uk/localplan. We will assess all the suggestions we receive as part of our on-going work. Submission of a site does not guarantee it will be suitable for development.
